

360 Degree Survey Options

Achieve success by understanding your own self-perception and the perception of those around you

IMPROVEMENT BEGINS WITH CORRECT PERCEPTIONS AND HONEST FEEDBACK

The need for accurate and timely assessment of self and the view of others has never been more important in today's rapidly evolving workplace. Managers, Leaders and Professionals must continually be in touch with how they perceive themselves and are perceived by others around them. The 360 Degree Survey options are designed to provide an efficient method for gathering and reviewing survey results in order to establish specific goals and objectives for continual improvement.

OVERVIEW

- Surveys can be standard tools, widely used, or can be completely customizable to measure what you need to know.
- Easily administered 24/7 through secure, online access.
- Results can be delivered in a variety of report-type options to suit your needs.
- The anonymity of respondents is protected to assure honest input.

360 SURVEYS DEFINED

Personal effectiveness within each key position is crucial to the ongoing success of the organization. 360 surveys allow respondents to provide valuable feedback regarding the effectiveness of another individual's performance. The results of 360 surveys are then used to enhance and develop the individual.
